The Hongkong Telegraph.

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 2, 1893.

TELEGRAMS.

FRANCE AND SIAM.

FURTHER DEMANDS.

LONDON, August 1st.

As a guarantee for the fulfilment of the ultimatum France demands temporary possession of Port Chantaboon. The Times is silent as regards the situation and other papers comment reservedly, but declare that British rights cannot be overruled.

STRIKE OF MINERS. A quarter of a million miners are on strike in the Midland Counties and the movement is extending.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

H.M.S. Redpole is now at Shanghai, having made a fast run down from Wuhu.

It is reported that some twenty arrests of notorious rowdies have been made by the civil and military officials of Shanghai, in regard to the late Koloa Hui troubles in that province.

A SURVEY party in Upper Burma reports having come across two villages of Burman Roman Catholics near Chungkuo. These are said to be the descendants of Portuguese captives brought from Siam by the great King Alaungmy, who conquered Pegu.

THE Canadian Pacific Railway Co.'s royal mail steamer Empress of Japan, from Hongkong, arrived at Kobe at 5.30 p.m. yesterday, and left again at 10 a.m. to-day for Vancouver, via Yokohama.

THE case of E. E. Abrahamson v. the China Borneo Company came on for hearing before Capt. R. D. Beeston, Sessions Judge, Sardinian, last month and judgment was given for the defendant company.

At Singapore on the 25th ulto. Baron de Horn was committed to the House of Observation. D. T. K. or softening of the brain? He has lately been amusing himself by looking for the "murderer" of the Russian Emperor.

THE British mail steamship Malwa, which arrived here this morning at 4.45 a.m. from Shanghai, reports having anchored on the 30th ulto. in Sishan Bay owing to a typhoon raging ahead. This accounts for her having been overdue here.

THE Dick Company's operations on the sunken steamer Amigo are progressing rapidly, so that it is hoped that by to-morrow she will be got up on the beach. In our next issue we intend to give a full account of the work, which is crowded out to-day.

H.M.S. Pigmy left Singapore for Bangkok on the evening of the 26th ulto. It is understood that the Agassiz remains at Singapore until the arrival of a British man-of-war at that port; then in all probability she will resume her surveying duties off the Anambas Islands.

At the Magistracy to-day, before Mr. Wolfehouse, Li Tien was committed for trial at the Sessions on a charge of infringing on the Hong Mee and Yuen Sun tea trade-marks, as previously reported in these columns. Mr. C. Ewens prosecuted and Mr. H. L. Denays defended.

A MR. KOBAYASHI, member of the Japanese Parliament for Okayama, prefecture, is developing a scheme to establish a monopoly in Kobe for the sale of Bingo matting. The object is to dispense with the costly services of middlemen and deal directly with foreigners through one agency.

JUSTITIA.—Although agreeing with much that you have written about Mr. J. J. Francis, we prefer to deal with him after our own fashion and will have him on the "stand" to-morrow. To-day, we have matters of much more importance to attend to; besides being "crowded out." Your M.S.S. has been returned.

THE N. C. Daily News observes that many old residents in Hongkong and Shanghai will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Edward Wheeler. She was a daughter of Capt. Toward, who was in the employ of the P. and O. Company in Hongkong, where she was married, and she resided for many years there and in Shanghai, leaving for home some five years ago.

Old Soak.—There's a lively time in store for you, Berlin!

Berlin Diet.—Vot vos dot?

O. S.—Why it has been decided that it is legal for any household, from his own premises, to throw water upon organ grinders who disturb his rest.

B. B.—Mein Gott! Den will we had to drink our beer under der tables and in der cellar! Hoch!

WE regret to announce the death of Mr. Peter Dowdall, which event occurred at Nagasaki on the 26th ulto. Mr. Dowdall was a frequent and talented contributor to the columns of the N. C. Daily News, which paper, feelingly remarks: "He was one of the most genial and kind-hearted men in existence, and all who had the pleasure of knowing him must most deeply mourn his death."

ACCORDING to the N. C. Daily News, advice to hand from Hankow report the arrival at that port from Shanghai under the charge of an expectant chariot of Kan-su, of two thousand cases of rifle cartridges and fourteen hundred and forty cases of bayonets and ammunition belts, bound for Kan-su and the New Dominion. It is reported that this consignment is but the forerunner of four others of the same amount, as well as of another instalment variously stated at 5,000 and 8,000 stand of magazine rifles.

A SPLENDID entertainment is promised by the Victor Emanuel amateurs for Saturday, the 12th inst., and Wednesday, the 16th, in the City Hall, on behalf of the fund for the relief of sufferers by the terrible disaster to H.M.S. Victoria. The programme includes Chorus, musical performances, "varieties," and grand tableaux appropriately illustrating H.M.S. Victoria cleared for action, the battle of Trafalgar, and the death of Nelson. Under the able management of Mr. South a treat is assured.

REUTER'S telegram published here on the 27th ulto, about the hauling down of the French Minister's flag at Bangkok and the departure from the town of the three French gun-boats, is corroborated by a telegram received at the French Consulate, Singapore, from the Minister himself. Mr. Caspari, Consul for France at that port, has informed the Press that the three French gunboats Comble, Instantant and Lutia, with M. Pavie on board one of them, crossed the Bangkok bar at six o'clock on the evening of the 26th.

An employe of Messrs. Daniel & Co., named Roty, was carried off by pirates near Songho, Tonkin, on the morning of the 28th July. He was out with a gang of coolies clearing a road through the jungle, when some forty men sprang out and seized him. They are believed to belong to the same band that carried off Mr. Vezio, Government railway superintendent, last year, and as Mr. Vezio was travelling in that district lately it seems not improbable that he was the pirates' real game, and that Mr. Roty was captured by mistake. That ought to console him!

"MONSIEUR AND MADAME GASSIER present their compliments, and hope to have the honour of M. Gassier's company at the baptism of their new house to-morrow, Saturday, July 22nd at 5 p.m." This sort of invitation went out all over Touraine recently, and at the appointed time a great crowd assembled, and the Rev. Father Laurent, attended by choir-boys, went through the new house, sprinkling holy water and saying prayers. The Courrier concludes its report of the proceedings with the eloquent remark: "This new house, so pleasantly placed, is to be occupied by the Opium Farm!"

THE Strait Times learns from its Sandakan correspondent that there are reports of trouble with the natives in one of the rivers in Darvel Bay. It is said they intended to murder Capt. Beeson and Mr. A. R. Danlop, the Officer in charge of the District, when they were in the column and a half of Francis, in the lively river prospecting for gold. The party left on July 26th, and they expected which apparently upset the natives' plans. A native Government child or clerk had to run away a few days after, as they were preparing to defy the Government. Mr. Danlop visited Sandakan about this affair, but as the Governor is absent, visiting Labuan and the west coast, nothing can be done until his return.

TAKING all India into calculation, density of population is two hundred and twenty-nine per square mile. China shows two hundred and eighty-three and Japan two hundred and seventy-four.

THE Canadian Pacific Railway Co.'s royal mail steamer Empress of China, from Vancouver, arrived at Kobe at 4.30 a.m. yesterday, and left again at midnight for this port, via Nagasaki and Shanghai.

THE popular adjutant of the Hongkong Volunteer Corps, Lieut. Nicholson, R.A., leaves for England to-morrow, when it is probable that a hearty send-off will be accorded him by the members of the corps.

A TELEGRAM to an Australian paper states that a fight has been arranged to take place at Chicago between Charlie Mitchell, the English pugilist, and "Jim" Corbett, of America. The match is for a purse of £9,000.

"WHAT'll become of you in the next world if you don't tell the truth?" asked a well-known magistrate of a small boy the other day. "Dunno what'll happen to me in this world, let alone the next," gloomily responded the boy, and the magistrate wilted.

THE Tokyo Mainichi tells the following story: Some time ago a canoe having a baby in it was found afloat off the coast of Higashi Kokus-gun, Chiba prefecture. A small piece of paper was fixed round its neck having an inscription, which read "Exiled for an unfilial crime, having bitten its mother's breast and killed her."

A VERNACULAR paper states that the American Consul at Kobe has issued certain immigration regulations which must be observed by Japanese who intend proceeding to the United States before they will be permitted to land. These provide that all immigrants must be examined in Japan and provided with certificates showing that they are free from certain specified diseases and in the possession of $30.

THE Bangkok Times states that a Burman arrived in Bangkok a few days ago, in order to personally present an appeal against a decision of the International Court at Chongking, whereby he had been ordered to pay something like Rs. 100,000 and costs. It is probable that the case will be tried before H.R.H. Prince Dewawongse and Captain Jones, v.c., in conjunction, in about a month's time. It is many years since an appeal from the International Court was brought to Bangkok.

It is stated that the Hopps of Canton has issued a proclamation for the special benefit of compradors and the employes of foreign firms, that by Treaty and the principles of right they are still subjects of the Chinese Emperor, and that foreign Consuls have no authority to interfere in cases of law suits between other Chinese traders and themselves. It concludes the proclamation, such employes of foreign firms continue to be loyal subjects of the Chinese authorities, but if they are touched by the Chinese authorities, they will put their trust in foreign Consuls and their masters, they will find that they are leaning on broken reeds.

His Reverence—"I hope you don't associate with that man I saw you speak to on the street last now."

Keweenaw—"Associate with him? What do you take me for? That man, sir, is one of the most corrupt, sneaking, underhand, low-down, villainous and depraved scoundrels that ever transpired to keep out of jail!"

H.R.—"I know it. But why are you on speaking terms with him at all?"

Q.C.—"Why, I'm—his legal adviser."

ON Shanghai morning contemporary of the 27th ult. has the following item.—H.M.S. Archer has been suddenly ordered to Yokohama, and to take the place of the Porpoise at the Komandoro Islands. The Porpoise is ordered to Hongkong, it is supposed to get ready for recommissioning, but at the same time it is reported that Admiral Fremantle is going down at once to Hongkong. In connection, probably, with the blockade at Bangkok, H.M.S. Redpole, Commander May, will come at once from Wuhu, to act for the present as senior officer's ship here. The Archer leaves this on Saturday (29th) about 11.30 a.m.

JAPANESE banks and other commercial industries would appear to be doing remunerative business in spite of the universal depression in general trade. We read that the National Bank made a net profit of 17,000 yen for the last half year, and declared a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent per annum. The 3rd National Bank made a net profit of 65,000 yen, and a dividend at the rate of 10 per cent per annum. The Fuiji Paper Company, apparently a flourishing concern, distributed a sum of 9 per cent in the form of a dividend at the rate of 9 per cent per annum.

THE following telegram was received in Singapore on the 25th inst.:

RAVU, 1.30 p.m., 24th July.

"Rough cleaning up of battery yielded 1,300 oz. of amalgam; estimated quantity of stone crushed being 400 tons. Prospects good." This result, in the opinion of the Press, is very good though slightly not in line with that of the last clean-up, when the large quantity of 1,600 oz. of amalgam was got from 180 tons of stone. Taking 36 per cent, as the average proportion of gold in the amalgam, the present clean-up would produce from 425 to 450 ounces of gold. This would amount in value to about £1,700 or £13,600.

IN an apologetic note for having published an encyclopaedic version of our article on the shortcomings of Reuter's telegraphic service the Strait Times tips in the following strain:—"We must not be understood to approve the style of comment; but, unhappily, there is grave reason to be dissatisfied with Reuter's service in certain respects." To gods! If the Telegraph were to await the approval of all the old women and bald-headed nincompoops of the East what would be the fate of its present unrivalled and unapproachable circulation? We are quite content to allow the Editor of the Strait Times to cater to the tastes of sentimental kitchen-maid; the Telegraph has a wider field for action—and seems to fill it, somehow.

WE have become accustomed to doing all the hard journalistic work for our esteemed morning contemporary, which calmly appropriates our items day after day (except on the "after" without over a word of thanks or acknowledgment; we would not much care, if we could in return crib over-night items, on the quid pro quo basis. But it is all quid pro quo and while for the office editors we would be able to turn on the office editors and paste-boards to the tune of a column and a half of Francis, in the lively police-court comedy of yesterday afternoon, it was too late for us yesterday, and we looked forward with joy to the prospect of "bait and skittles" without limit—getting so much work done for us by the Daily Press to-day, Alas! and black-day! Not a word did they give us, perhaps they will have it to-morrow's issue, or sometime next month.

RECENT American advices state that influenza is raging in Peru. In part of the country fully half the inhabitants are down with the disease.

THE export of gold from Cape Colony during May, 1893, amounted in value to £139,766, as compared with £311,950 in April last and £326,000 in May, 1892.

WITH reference to the threatened influx of Japanese labourers into the Australian colonies, a correspondent of the Sydney Star writes as follows:—Eighteen months ago some Japanese gentlemen visited Australia for facilitating trade. The outcome of that visit is the presence of the Japanese steamer now at anchor in our waters. This steamer on her initial trip has landed 500 Japanese labourers upon the Queensland coast. These 500 laborers are but the advance guard of thousands more to follow, being arranged for to come here in order to supplant our workmen in all avenues of trade, because they can work for less wages than our European and Australian workmen. Last week the Queensland Government notified New South Wales that there was no work in that State available, and it would be useless for men to come there seeking employment. Two days after this announcement these 500 Japs were landed. What is the destiny of Australia? If our workers are brought to a low level of Asiatics? And our employers and Government prefer the low-paid Asiatic to our own color and race? We have already two Asiatic questions before us—why add another?

THE OPIUM FARM AND THE POLICE.

THE LEGALITY OF SMUGGLING INTO CHINA.

At the Magistracy yesterday afternoon, before Comm. W. C. H. Hastings, acting magistrate, Wong Kam, said to be an employe of the Opium Farm, was charged with attempting, by means of a bribe, to induce police sergeant Alexander McIvor, in breach of his duty, to take no notice of the unlawful transport of opium from the Farm premises at West Point to Cap-ai-moon in boats by night.

Mr. F. H. May, captain-superintendent, conducted the prosecution, and Mr. J. J. Francis, Q.C., instructed by Mr. Denays, appeared for the defence.

Ser. McIvor stated—About 7 p.m. on 22nd July on returning from West Point Police Station to Kennedy Town Station I found the defendant sitting alone in my room at the Station. We both sat down. I know the defendant: he is employed in the Opium Farm. After sitting down he made some remark about the seizure of opium by the Water Police. I asked him how the case was to go on, and he told me that the Captain Superintendent had written a letter to the Harbour Board to have the Opium Farm withdrawn. I said "Is that so?" and he then asked me how many European constables were stationed at Kennedy Town. I told him there were two besides myself. He asked if they were changed every three months. I said they might be changed in three months or they might be there for more than three months. He asked what duty they performed. I informed him they belonged to the Water Police. He told me then he was sent by the Opium Farm to see if I would accept a $20 a month "cumshaw," and also $25 a month for each of the two European constables. I asked him why should I accept the money. He said they wanted to remove opium during the night from Praya West across the Harbour in the direction of Cap-ai-moon. I told him I could not do such a thing. He then went away. As he was going away he said he might see me later on. At that time I sometimes went on duty at the Koh Shing Theatre. The defendant said he might come back and see me at the Koh Shing Theatre. On the following night, Sunday, July 24, I informed Inspector Mackle of the matter. Acting on his instructions I informed the Captain Superintendent on July 24. There are 8 Indians at the Kennedy Town Station and 2 Chinese for land duty and 8 Chinese constables for water duty. My Chinese boy passed through the room while the defendant and I were conversing there.

Cross-examined.—A telephone message came from Kennedy Town station on the 22nd, that somebody had been seen at the station and that the defendant was there. He was then at West Point station; he was not actually asked to go to Kennedy Town.

Mr. Francis.—Nobody asked if you were. Tell me the truth, now.

Witness.—I am telling you the truth.

Mr. Francis.—You are not; you are telling a lie.

Witness.—I beg your pardon, sir, I am not. I was not sent for, but I was sent for somebody to see me. (Proceeding.) My statement in this case was taken down in writing by the Captain-Superintendent and Mr. Arthur, the magistrate's clerk.

Mr. Francis.—I thought the Magistrate knew something about it!

His Worship.—What is that you say?

Mr. Francis.—I thought your Worship knew something about it, from the way in which you asked questions during the examination-in-chief.

His Worship.—I must inform you, Mr. Francis, that I know nothing at all about the case, beyond that the defendant is charged with attempting to bribe. That is all I know of it.

Mr. Francis.—(to witness).—Don't you know that the person who was waiting for you at Kennedy Town station at noon was the defendant?—No. He visited the station about noon, in my absence.

When you returned to the station in the evening, did you not see your wife in the room as well as the defendant?—Yes.

Why did you tell the Magistrate you did not see anyone else in the room except defendant? You are here to tell "the truth," the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.—I did not think it right to bring my wife's name into the case.

Have you told us the whole of the conversation you had with the prisoner?—Yes.

Was there not something about detective sergeant Hadd?—No.

Has an attempt to bribe you ever been made before?—Yes, on several occasions.

Have you known cases in which convictions have been obtained for attempting to bribe the police?—Yes.

Have you also known what the officers, who had been offered bribes, had done to establish the offence on reliable evidence?—Yes.

Have you heard of an officer inviting the man to see him somewhere where he had arranged for people to overhear what was said?—No, I never heard of that.

And yet you say they have tried to bribe you several times?—Yes, in the street.

You have not heard of a case recently, in which the inspector, when offered a bribe, arranged for the man to return to him next day to repeat the offer, while a listener was posted behind a screen to corroborate the evidence and make sure of having a good case?—Do you mean yesterday's case?

No, I mean a previous case.—I had not heard of it.

Mr. May explained that the witness was home on leave at the time mentioned by Mr. Francis.

Mr. Francis.—Now, can you tell me why no information of this case was given to the Captain-Superintendent until the 24th July, though this was said to have occurred on the 22nd?—It was said on Saturday, the 22nd, and the office was closed on Sunday.

Then why was the summons not issued until the 29th?—That is a question for the Captain-Superintendent. I reported to him, and he issued his instructions.

Witness then explained that the defendant was with him, in the detective force, in 1887, 1890, and 1891, so they were good friends. The conversation on which the charge was based was in "pidgin" English. Defendant said "Opium Farm wants me to look-see you, pay you 'cumshaw' forty dollar, one moon; fifty dollar, two piece English police." That was about all that passed.

Mr. Francis wanted the exact and complete wording of the conversation, which witness tried to repeat, slightly modifying what he had first said.

Mr. Francis.—That is not what you said; you are stating what is not true!

Mr. May.—If you would let the witness alone, and give him a chance.

Mr. Francis.—Please don't interfere, Mr. May! You don't know anything at all about the business of a court.

Witness.—I think you are too hasty, Mr. Francis, in calling me a liar. I ask for the protection of the Court.

Mr. Francis.—I did not call you a liar.

Witness.—You did.

Mr. Francis.—You said I was telling lies.

Mr. Francis.—Your Worship, the witness has been saying what is not true, and now he is trying to conceal it.

Witness.—I beg your pardon, Mr. Francis.

His Worship.—Do not think he is trying to conceal anything, Mr. Francis; do not call the man a liar. I think your remarks discourteous and improper.

Witness then went on to explain the details of his conversation with the prisoner.

On the termination of the cross-examination, Mr. May asked his Worship to question the witness, with a view to ascertaining what impression witness received from the defendant's conversation.

Mr. Francis.—I object to that question!

His Worship.—Very well; I note your objection, but I am going to ask the question.

Mr. Francis.—Why, do you really mean to say you imagine I am going to attend this Court and address arguments to you, when you tell me you are going to ask the witness that question?

His Worship.—I have made a note of your objection, and I am going to ask the question.

Mr. Francis.—Very well; then allow me to state to you that the impression produced on the mind of a witness is no evidence in any shape or form. What the defendant said is evidence against him, but not what the witness inferred as to his meaning; let the witness relate what passed, and it is for the Court—for your Worship or the jury—to draw inferences as to what the defendant meant; but what the witness may have thought is not evidence. I object to your asking such a question.

His Worship.—I will put it in another way, then. (To witness).—Why did you report the case to the Inspector?

Witness.—Because I thought it was an improper proposal that the defendant made to me, and it was my duty to report the matter to my superior.

Mr. Francis.—I object to that. I object to his answer being taken down.

His Worship (writing).—Yes.

Mr. Francis.—Will you be so good as to take down my statement that I object to that answer?

His Worship.—I have noted it.

A fact, "boy" in the last witness gave evidence as to defendant having called at the station.

After Mr. Francis had cross-examined, Mr. May suggested to his Worship some points for further questions.

Mr. Francis.—I object to re-examination for the purpose of getting something previously omitted. Besides, these are not proper questions under any circumstances. This is not the way to conduct a case at all, and no magistrate who knew his duty would allow it to be done in this way.

His Worship.—I am much obliged to you for the compliment, Mr. Francis.

Mr. Francis.—It is nothing in the shape of a compliment, and it is not meant as such.

His Worship (very quietly).—If I had known anything about the case, Mr. Francis, as you indicated a little while ago, I should have known what to ask the witnesses in their examination-in-chief, but I am ignorant of the facts and now I want to go to the end of such remarks.

Witness then completed his story, after which Chung Ping (a Jukong), Inspector Mackle, and the Captain-Superintendent gave evidence.

This completed the case for the prosecution.

Mr. Francis called no evidence but addressed the Court at great length for the defence, to the effect that a charge of bribery could only be brought in reference to a definite statement had been corroborated, they would only show that the defendant asked him questions on behalf of others. Even if McIvor had been asked point-blank not to interfere with a certain definite removal of opium on a particular night, and had been offered money, it would not be the officer's duty to interfere with the opium. There was a decision in the Supreme Court, and also one by Mr. Woodhouse (though both had been ignored by Capt. Hastings in a recent case) showing that the illegality of such removal was by no means clear. It might be contrary to the terms of the Farm's licence, but it was not at all certain scripion a sum of $30,000. The Ordinance empowers the Government to hand over that sum of $30,000 to the Po Leung Kuk without any limitations, conditions, or restrictions. I suggested an amendment to the effect that the money should not be paid over to the Po Leung Kuk until it was certified to the Government that the above mentioned sum of $30,000 had been collected and paid to the credit of the Po Leung Kuk. I called attention to my report, a copy of which I annex hereto, to the fact that although the money was alleged to have been subscribed there was no evidence before the Government or before the Special Committee that it had been paid. Considering that the main object of the Ordinance was to relieve the Government of the obligation imposed on it by section 17 of Ordinance 11 of 1890 to provide a home for women and children dealt with under that Ordinance and to throw the obligation on the shoulders of the Po Leung Kuk, it seems to me that no payment should be made to the Po Leung Kuk until the satisfaction of the Government. The Society undertook the same obligation in 1878 at its first formation and has not yet complied with it. If the Church of England was about to erect a grant-in-aid school in the colony it could not get a cent from the Government towards the building till the school had been finished and approved. Why should a Chinese society be treated more liberally, or with less piecemeal, than the Church of England? This is my first main objection to the Ordinance, and I beg of your Lordship to direct its amendment in some way that will prevent public money from being paid over to the Po Leung Kuk without ample security for its proper expenditure according to the intention of the Ordinance. It is useless to say that of course the Executive Government will see to that. I submit that all proper conditions and limitations should be imposed by and by the Ordinance which authorizes the grant.

My main objection to the Ordinance is, however, its inclusion of the Registrar-General as one of the governing body of the Po Leung Kuk, and against this I most strongly protest. I shall have to go a little at length into this part of the subject, but I am sure your Lordship will be patient with me.

The Po Leung Kuk was originally established and is now maintained and organized for two separate and distinct purposes: although having a common object, they are often dealt with and spoken of as if they were one. The first is to assist in the detection and repression of kidnapping and child-stealing and of all kindred offences against women and children. The other is the assistance and protection of women and children rescued from kidnappers and child-stealers, while their cases are under investigation and afterwards if for any reason they need shelter and protection, and the establishment of a home where women and children can be housed until they are able to return to their families or otherwise provided for. The second of these objects is far and away the most important, and is the one in respect of which the society has claimed and now receives a special status and a money grant. Its detective functions are of comparatively little importance.

Now in 1890, by Ordinance 11 of that year, the laws of the colony for the protection of women and girls were amended and consolidated. By that Ordinance the Registrar-General was empowered (section 14) whenever he had reason to believe that any woman or girl had been brought into the colony by purchase, or by fraud, misrepresentation, or false pretence, or for immoral purposes or for purposes of emigration, or had been purchased in the colony or was being trained for the same purposes, or was in ignorance of her true position, to inquire into the case and require security for the protection of the girl at any time during the period of her detention and until she could be removed to her home, or proper provision be made for the protection of her interests and liberty. If, on enquiry, he was satisfied that it was a proper case for his interference, he might remove any girl under 16 from her then custody and place her in a home until the age of 19, or until her marriage, or adoption. I call special attention here to the word "adoption," which is lawful for the Governor to provide, out of money to be granted for the purpose by the Legislative Council, a suitable building or buildings for a home; and the subsequent section provides for the regulation of such home and for the safety of the women and girls therein.

This Ordinance imposes on the Registrar-General, and on the Registrar-General alone, the duty and responsibility of enquiring into all these cases, the power of detention pending inquiry, and the ultimate disposal of the women and girls whose cases are decided to come within the provisions of the Ordinance.

The Registrar-General's report for 1891 on the working of his department and of the "Women and Girls' Protection Ordinance" in particular shows how this Ordinance has been understood and is worked. His report on the working of Part II. of the Ordinance, above mentioned, may be summarized as follows:—

"The Provisions of Part II. of the Ordinance found to work well in practice. Under this portion of the Ordinance no fewer than 330 women and girls were detained, of this number 5 died and 30 are under the care of the Po Leung Kuk.

"The remaining 295 were dealt with as follows:—

Left.....	5
Restored direct to parents or relatives.....	72
Restored to husbands.....	32
Restored to guardians.....	8
Sent back to native place.....	14
Sent home through institutions in China.....	39
Sent back to Penang.....	1
Sent to Victoria Home.....	1
Sent to Hongkong through the Consul.....	3
Adopted.....	9
Married.....	52
Employment found for.....	1

"Those who are represented as having left..... All the girls rescued under the Ordinance were taken care of by the Po Leung Kuk pending inquiries regarding them or their relatives. Indeed, it is to a great extent owing to the exertions of the gentlemen who constitute the Committee that so many women have been rescued and comfortably settled in life. They have worked most successfully in co-operation with this department and have been successful in their endeavours to suppress the evil practices with which the Ordinance under review deals. Every precaution is taken by them and by myself to secure the welfare of all women and girls who come under our care. In case of marriages, of which there were 52, and adoptions, of which there were 9, the marriages were solemnized in accordance with the provisions of the Ordinance, and the adoptions were approved by the Committee and by myself. No girl is allowed to marry except as a first wife, and then only after I have ascertained by personal investigation that she is willing to marry and that the man is in a position to maintain a wife."

Here the Committee of the Po Leung Kuk were shown zealously co-operating with and by the Registrar-General, to provide for the women and girls, with the final decision and responsibility devolving on the Registrar-General according to Ordinance 11 of 1890. No matter what the recommendations of the Po Leung Kuk, the Registrar-General himself intervenes in the case of the husband and appoints himself the girl is willing, and is to be taken as a first wife, and by a competent person.

This new organization of the Po Leung Kuk changes all this. The Registrar-General is a member of the governing body of the Po Leung Kuk, is one, although the Chairman, of a Committee and is to be governed by the votes of the majority of the Committee, on all those matters on which until now he had the decisive voice even in the face of a unanimous Committee.

Hitherto the work of disposing of the women and girls rescued by the Registrar-General and the Po Leung Kuk has vested in the Registrar-General, with all the information, assistance, and advice the zealous co-operation of the Po Leung Kuk could give him, but with the legal responsibility and final decision in his hand alone.

If the Po Leung Kuk Ordinance passes, the Registrar-General becomes a member and chairman of the governing body of the Po Leung Kuk, and the decision, even as to the marriage of a girl, will be in effect, whatever it may be in form, the decision of the Po Leung Kuk Committee or of the majority of them, of whom the Registrar-General may not be one.

One of the points insisted upon in the past by the Registrar-General has been that every woman and girl married from the Po Leung Kuk must be married as a first wife. It is not only of marriage—English law will recognize it. It is what is meant by "marriage" in Ordinance 11 of 1890, the making of the disposal of rescued women and girls. It has been a bone of contention between the Registrar-General and the Po Leung Kuk Committee, (see p. 31 of the Blue Book) whether these women and girls might not be disposed of as second or third wives. Hitherto the Registrar-General being independent, has carried the day. The special object of the Po Leung Kuk Committee in desiring to have the Registrar-General as a member of the Committee of the Society is that he may be on such questions over-ruled by Chinese opinion as expressed by the majority. (See the evidence of Mr. Wai Yuk and the remarks of the Honourable Mr. Ho Kai at pages 17 and 18 of the Blue Book. See the evidence of Mr. Ho Kai at page 23.)

"I mention it (the Registrar-General's veto) because it would not be right that the other members of the Board should be the mere tools of the Registrar-General. They ought to have a voice in the matter and everything should go by the majority."

The same witness at page 26 says:—

"The Registrar-General must be bound by the decision of the majority."

A little further on the Honourable C. P. Chater asks:—

"What is the state of affairs at the present moment?"

"Answer. The present Committee merely find out all they can about the girls and then make a report to the Registrar-General. If they make any recommendations it is for him to act on them or not."

"Question. You would prefer that the majority of the Board should decide what is to be done with any girl whether the Registrar-General is opposed to it or not?"

"Answer. Yes."

The same class of evidence is continued on page 27. (See also pages 31, 32, 33, where it is made clear that the main question on which the Registrar-General is to be able to control the Registrar-General is this question of marriage.) At page 35, at the bottom of the page, will be found Mr. Ho Kai's opinion as to the result of the Government refusing to grant the Society power to over-ride the Registrar-General by the majority of votes. He says:—"The Society will throw up the whole thing."

At page 38, Mr. Wai Long Shan confirms Mr. Wai Yuk and Mr. Ho Kai, as to the result of the Society to get the control of the Registrar-General in the disposal of the women and girls. I would further in this connection call attention to a remark of Mr. Ho Kai, to be found at p. 99 of the Blue Book:

"That is not exactly it. The Registrar-General has the power, even if this Ordinance is passed, to place the girls where he likes; but once he makes use of the Po Leung Kuk, sends a girl there, according to the provisions of that Ordinance, then the Committee is over the Registrar-General."

It seems to me abundantly clear from the general of the Chinese evidence that the object of the Chinese in petitioning for and supporting this Ordinance is that if it is passed, and if the Registrar-General becomes Chairman of the Permanent Committee, the majority of that Committee, composed entirely of Chinese, shall be able to control the Registrar-General, not in matters of detail connected with the detective work of the Society, nor in the management of the finance or of the internal management of the home, but in the vital matter of the ultimate disposal of the women and girls sent there, their transfer to other custody, their adoption, or marriage.

The Ordinance as passed will place the Registrar-General in that position, as the Chinese understand it, and as I understand it, and my proposal in Committee of Council was to amend section 9 by removing him from that position. There is no objection to this in the position, if, as suggested by Dr. Eichel (see page 35 of the Blue Book) a power of veto was given to all cases (subject to an appeal to the Governor) in which a positive duty is imposed on him personally by Ordinance 11 of 1890.

To conclude, I have objected and still object to clause 9 of the Ordinance, and to the appointment, under it, as a member of the Permanent Committee of the Po Leung Kuk of the Registrar-General because by Ordinance 11 of 1890 he has imposed on him, and on him alone, the duty and responsibility of disposing of all women and girls brought by him under that Ordinance, and who have to be provided for in the home, and he must provide for them by marriage or adoption. Hitherto he has in all such matters acted independently, and has been able to act with complete independence, and has had the aid and assistance of the Po Leung Kuk Committee, but has not been in any way bound to follow it if it did not command his approval. The Ordinance now before your Lordship is sought for by the Chinese in order that the Registrar-General's independent action may be fettered, that instead of being outside and above their Committee, he may be in it and of it, and bound by its votes and opinions, and in this special matter of the disposal of the women and children committed to his care, the Ordinance is so framed as to make him a mere member of the Po Leung Kuk Committee with a casting vote as chairman at most, and without any power of veto, no matter what the decisions of the majority may be. I submit that this is wrong; that if for any reason it is desirable that the Registrar-General should be a member of the board, he should have an express power of veto, subject to appeal to the court, or to the Governor. But I contend that it is a grave mistake to put him on the board in any form. His independent position ought to be maintained. If there must be a European chairman, let the Captain Superintendent of Police be the man. He has no special duties as regards women and children, and there would be a certain fitness in the appointment considering the primary duties of the society.

I will not urge upon your Lordship the unwisdom of leaving it in the power of a Chinese society, however excellent, and of their officers to represent themselves on the mainland and before the Chinese officials, as a quasi-government department, under a Government official. I simply call your Lordship's attention to that phase of the subject.

I pray your Lordship to return the Ordinance to Hongkong for amendment in the directions indicated by me, and to recommend the Registrar-General either to remove the Registrar-General from the governing body of the Po Leung Kuk or to invest him with powers adequate to his duties and responsibilities to the women and girls under his care.

My I ask your Lordship to give instructions that any reply you may think fit to make to this letter may be communicated to me without delay on its receipt by the government here. Your Lordship's reply to the letter dated 12th January last of the Unofficial Members on the question of the cost of the administration, although dated the 21st April last did not reach the hands of the Senior Unofficial Member until the 2nd instant.

I have the honour to be, My Lord, Your Lordship's most obedient, humble servant, (Signed) T. H. WATKINSON, To the Rt. Hon. the Marquis of Ripon, etc.

THE INFERNO OF TANKER ALFIERI.

A PETROLEUM FILICRAME.

I had a dream—a fearful dream, of fire, and flame, and death, Of horrors more horrible, worse than this, Of Berlin Biot, and Hamburger, and good Old Soko combined. In truth it was a wondrous dream; and yet I had not dreamed Unwisely or too well.

Method that while I slept the sleep of those who earn their rest By honest toil—I do not mean the people who are blessed With lots of work they leave undone, and lots of pay they get For sofly twiddling their thumbs, like the Official set—I dreamed about a Shell.

The shade of Mephistopheles was beckoning to me To go with him inside the Shell; he said that I A glimpse of the Hereafter—at least, that part of it Which missionary idiots refer to as "The Pit." So, curious, I went.

The Shell was fine and large—in fact, I think the Daily Press Informed us it was eighty feet in height, or maybe less, Or more, perhaps; but anyhow it was a bigger Although you may not think it, than the slit across the face Of Mister—

[Note.—A prize of $500 will be given to any person who will come forward and lend us his name to fill the gap.]

On entering we found it was a huge establishment Where fiends and goblins pass their time in dealing punishment To all who don't do as they should, or do as they should not. Its leading characteristic was that it was very hot—

Blanket, damdot, * * * We saw the hapless victims wiggle all about With torturers tormenting them by millions and more; While there was the thermometer—four hundred and fifteen!

The stokers didn't use briquettes, but only kerosene— They got it from Batoum. The first of all the sufferers that Mephistopheles Directed my attention to, I recognized with ease, As residents of Sam-sut-so, who never should have stayed So near the certain danger of the tank petroleum trade; But stay they did—for this!

And then my guide requested me to look another way, Where stood a funny little who, he then went on to say, Had just come on a visit, like myself to some extent, But different in many ways. I asked him what he meant. And this is what he said:—

"The fat and beery-looking individual, you see, 'Is on the Clearand racket, just the same as me; 'The other two are lunatics, as anyone could guess; 'One is a China Staff man, and the other Driest Press."

"They're all on the job!" "The two of simple intellect are waiting on the third, 'Who calls them on, and puts them off, and 'Takes them look about, 'By starting them to print a yarn about his bally tanks, 'And stopping in the middle, and without a word of thanks 'Refusing to allow them to go on. [See China Mail series of articles on Tanks, suddenly stopped about three months ago.]

"And now again he's got them on a little piece of string; 'He's giving them instructions how to finish off the thing, 'To give his blooming syndicate a big advertisement, 'For which, of course, he doesn't mean to pay a single cent." "No more he did!

"And when you waken from your dream" (my friend went on to say) "Just look into the papers on this very Wednesday, 'Or possibly a day or two, a week, a fortnight after, 'Your dream will then be verified, and you will die of laughter." [That will make the C. M. and D. P. worth reading for once.]

PIRACY ON BOARD A PENANG STEAMER.

24 MEN MURDERED AND 15 WOUNDED.

The Penang Gazette of the 24th ult. gives the following particulars of the recent piracy on the coast of Aceh:—

The Rajah Kongsat-Ajeh, which belongs to Mr. Teoh Teow Seat, the Chinese Vice-Consul for Penang, left Telok Semawang on the evening of Thursday the 20th July at about 5 p.m. Between 8 and 9 o'clock the same night, one of a gang of eight or twelve Achinese, who had embarked at Telok Semawang as passengers, went on the bridge and asked the man at the wheel if he were then passing Shipang. Olm, on receiving an answer in the affirmative, the Achinese, who was armed with a blowgun, instantly cut the helmsman down, and Mr.

Alexander, who was standing near by, shared the same fate immediately afterwards. The Achinese then took the helm and turned the ship's head towards the shore, where she grounded shortly afterwards. A general massacre all along the ship's deck followed; passengers and crew being murdered indiscriminately. Capt. Wood, who was lying in his cabin, came out on hearing the disturbance and was attacked and mortally wounded. He seems to have had just enough strength to get back to his cabin and lock the door. Mr. Anchoat, the chief engineer, was, fortunately for him, down in the engine-room at the time, and the Achinese called out to him to come up. Having heard the cries of "orang amok," he was in no hurry to comply with the request, but at once removed the engine-room ladder and extinguished the light. Mr. Baplah, the second engineer, had a very narrow escape and owed his safety to his presence of mind. It appears that he was sleeping in his cabin when the attack commenced, and woke up in time to see one of the crew killed. He at once put out the light in his cabin and opened the door, keeping himself very quiet in the dark. The Achinese afterwards rushed into the saloon where they killed more people and, after helping themselves to all the cash that was on board (said to have been between $2000 and $3000), they quitted the vessel in two of the ship's boats, taking with them some of the passengers, including a Javanese, a Macao and two Achinese women. Finding the ship clear, Mr. Anchoat came out of the engine-room and fired two rockets, and then proposed that he and some others should proceed in the remaining ship's boat to obtain the assistance of a man-of-war. No sooner, however, was the boat lowered than about eighteen of the passengers, who had escaped the murderous assault of the pirates, and who were afraid to be left behind, rushed into it and caused the boat to sink, with the result that all of them were drowned. The next morning the Dutch gunboat Madura, which had sighted the signals of distress from the R. K. Ajeh, came up and sent some men to take charge of the distressed vessel, and afterwards steamed to Edie for lighters.

From another source our contemporary hears that the Achinese returned, shortly after the gunboat left, to renew the plunder, but met with such a warm reception from the blue jackets that they were compelled to beat a retreat. At noon on the following day, the steamer Graf van Bylandt, while on her way to Edie from Telok Semawang, stood by the R. K. Ajeh for fifteen hours, and after taking a portion of the cargo and the seventeen men above referred to, she resumed her voyage. It is understood that the remaining cargo on board the distressed vessel is at present being impounded in lighters, and that it is expected she will be able to get off at next spring tide, when she will be towed to Edie. It is stated that she has not stuck fast in the ground, owing to the chief engineer having stopped the engines when he found the vessel was grounding. The Achinese are said to have concealed their weapons in bolsters, which they brought with them on board.

THE SITUATION AT BANGKOK.

(From the Special Correspondent of the Straits Times.)

Bangkok, July 19th.

The status quo is still existing, and public excitement here, is subsiding again, although reports from the provinces state that disquiet exists, and risings are to be feared in some districts. Growers have altogether ceased bringing in paddy, owing to the insecurity and the low market value, and rice is as dear here now as it is in Singapore.

The French have sent, or are sending, formal requests to the British Minister and the Danish Consul-General to notify their nationals employed in the Siamese army and navy that they must leave the service, or at any rate refrain from any operations against the French arms. In the event of their disobeying such notification, they will be hanged when captured. There are about a dozen of each nationality in the service, the British being principally employed as engineers. It is improbable that many of them will obey.

The cargo of the J. D. Say has been saved by the Siamese authorities. It comprised a quantity of dried fish, mink, silk, &c., together with steel shields and rivets for the Lutin. The French, who characterise the capture as an act of piracy, have held an official inquiry into the matter, and are only awaiting the evidence of the English pilot to complete it. The captain and engineer are being sent to Saigon to-day, but the claim for compensation will be sent in later by the French Government.

I learn that on Thursday night the Instant was under fire ten minutes before replying, and the Comde eight minutes. The former only retaliated when a man was killed. Her officers declare that if they had had half an hour more of daylight, they would have destroyed the forts and ships. When they arrived at the Legation, they were most anxious to steam up to the naval yard and sink the Mauchakak, but were restrained by Mr. Baplah. The two men wounded on the Comde are progressing.

The Siamese are pushing on their defensive preparations with great activity, and will without doubt make a strong stand if the city is attacked. There are several forts along the banks of the river between the French ships and the Palace, and soldiers enough to line the whole distance. H. H. Chan Sai, who has been placed in command of the defences at the mouth of the river, has ordered the bar to be still further fortified, and merchant vessels have now to exercise extreme caution in entering and leaving.

NEWS BY THE AUSTRALIAN MAIL.

LONDON, July 12th.

Timms, a member of the London County Council, has been sentenced to three months' imprisonment for defrauding a railway company of the value of a ticket.

July 13th.

Affairs in Egypt are again assuming a very serious aspect. The young Khedive's attitude towards the British, becoming increasingly hostile. He has requested the Sultan's interference with a view to the appointment of a guard of Turkish soldiers to supersede the British troops, and in other ways is testifying his hatred for the restraints imposed by the English protectorate. The Sultan is on the horns of a dilemma, being reluctant to anger England by complying with the above request, whilst on the other hand he is threatened, in the event of refusal, with a hostile Franco-Russian naval demonstration in the Mediterranean in support of the Khedive.

The French Admiral stationed at Newfoundland is reported to have taken offence because the local Government insist upon the French fishermen paying duty on goods landed on the treaty shore. He also states that he has been treated with gross discourtesy by the British Governor, who has refused to extend to him even the commonest civility. Relations are strained in consequence, and it is expected the French Government will retaliate.

Bitter feelings towards the English are also being fomented in Paris. The papers are constantly attacking the British Ambassador, the Marquis of Dufferin, and the popular ill-will towards this official has been wrought to such a pitch that he has been compelled to leave Paris. In consequence of the threatened renewal of fighting in Samoa, between the followers of the rival potentates, a British man-of-war has been ordered to proceed to the locality to co-operate with representatives of Germany and America in adjusting differences.

Stormy scenes among the Irish members continue to take place in the House of Commons. Sexton, reputed one of the cleverest members of the Irish party and its best orator, has been debarred from taking any active part in affairs during the remainder of the sitting, for using violent and unparliamentary language.

In Committee of the House on the Home Rule Bill, a amendment limiting the number of Irish members at Westminster according to proportion paid to Imperial taxation has been rejected.

Another amendment, to the effect that the number of Irish members at Westminster be reduced from 80 to 45, was also rejected.

The Australians have beaten Yorkshire, this making their tenth victory. The scores were—Australians 288, Yorkshire 143.

The Australians commence their match against Sussex to-day, at Brighton. A terrible colliery explosion has taken place in America, ninety persons being entombed.

The New Zealand Loan and Mercantile Agency Company has suspended payment. A reconstruction scheme is forthcoming and will probably be adopted.

The financial success of the Chicago Exhibition is falling very short of anticipations. It is expected that the total loss will not be less than a million and a half sterling.

SYDNEY, July 19th.

The barque Royal Tar is now in readiness to commence her voyage to Paraguay with the first batch of emigrants for the "New Australia" settlement. The vessel is manned exclusively by members of the association. She is expected to sail at any moment, and takes two hundred and nineteen passengers—men, women and children.

ADLAIDE, July 19th.

A great deal of excitement has been developed respecting the hanging of the Northern Territory blacks condemned to death for the wanton massacre of a number of shipwrecked Malays. The Register has taken the matter up, and publishes a strong article on the injustice of hanging the blacks in face of the fact that Page, the white man who deliberately shot his own niece at Port Lincoln recently, has had his death sentence commuted. The question is now before Parliament, and it is probable the men will be reprieved.

The Government is going in for general all-round retrenchment, including slight reductions in the Ministerial salaries.

Various expedients are being devised for the relief of the prevailing distress. The Governor has subscribed the sum of £25. Messrs. Jude and McCully gave an organ recital and eloquent entertainment at the Town Hall last night before a crowded audience, the Chief Justice presiding.

BRISBANE, July 19th.

In the Legislative Assembly on Tuesday, Mr. McEwen made a Ministerial statement to the effect that he had consulted the Governor with regard to the Ministerial crisis, and stated that the Governor had requested the Ministry to continue in office, which they had consented to do.

At a meeting of the shareholders and creditors of the Bank of North Queensland held in Townsville yesterday, the scheme of re-arrangement was unanimously adopted and some modifications suggested. The scheme was also adopted at a meeting of creditors held in Sydney.

SYDNEY, July 19th.

George Martin Walter Archer was executed on Tuesday for the murder of Miss Emma Harrison. He protested his innocence to the last. The execution of Archer was one of the most horrible scenes ever witnessed. Through some bungling in the adjustment of the rope, death was a process of slow strangulation and the unfortunate man continued to fight, struggle and groan for fully seven minutes after the drop fell.

There have been no fresh developments in connection with the maritime strike.

The British Government is remonstrating with France on entering upon hostilities with Siam without giving notice to the other Powers.

LONDON, July 17th.

The Agent-General for South Australia gave a splendid reception on Thursday last at the Imperial Institute. Among those present were the Marquis of Ripon (Secretary of State for the Colonies), Bishop and Mrs. Keenon, Lord Kintford, Lord Charles, and Lady Scott, the Agents General for the several colonies, and a large number of well-known colonists residing in London, and many other notabilities.

The Eclipse Stakes, of ten thousand sovereigns, has been won by the Duke of Westminster's Orme.

Cholera is again raging in many parts of Russia, and many deaths are reported.

The British Government is remonstrating with France on entering upon hostilities with Siam without giving notice to the other Powers.

The French Government explains that the action is in retaliation for the insult recently offered to France by the Siamese authorities in attacking a French convoy.

The Berlin Zeitung, in an article on the Samoan situation, suggests that the best way to ensure tranquillity is for England to annex Samoa, and the triple protectorate having proved practically a failure.

French troops return show a large falling-off, which is ascribed to the adoption of a protectionist policy.

The great national fête celebrated in Paris on Friday last was quiet and undemonstrative. The inquiry into the loss of H.M.S. Victoria has elicited proof that the terrible disaster was due to an error in judgment on the part of the late Admiral Tryon (who was reputed one of the ablest tacticians in the English Navy). The testimony of the principal surviving officers, going to show this, was given very unwillingly. One of the witnesses stated that immediately following the collision Admiral Tryon recognised and confessed the error he had made.

SYDNEY, July 17th.

special Gazette offering a reward of £500 for information leading to the conviction of the guilty parties.

The barque Royal Tar sailed from Sydney for Paraguay yesterday, with two hundred and nine "New Australia" settlers on board. The southern Press generally, commenting on the expedition, writes discouragingly concerning the political prospects in Paraguay.

ADLAIDE, July 17th.

Numerous departures are taking place from Adelaide, Melbourne, and Sydney for the goldfields in Western Australia. Handshakes and expenses attached to reaching and living on the fields are very considerable, and success uncertain.

July 19th.

The Executive has now decided that only Wandy Wandy, the Northern Territory murder, shall be hung, the remaining aborigines being reprieved.

LONDON, July 19th.

A terrible fire broke out yesterday in the centre of London. Thirty large warehouses have been completely destroyed, and several others damaged. The fire of the conflagration was increased by the inflammable nature of the goods and a gale of wind then blowing. Forty fire engines were engaged in playing on the flames, but for some time with but little effect. The damage to property is estimated at over two millions sterling.

The Prince of Wales, whilst riding near St. James Palace yesterday, came into collision with a cab. The Prince was thrown from his horse and badly shaken.

Lord Rosebery, speaking in the House of Lords, said his Government recognised the importance of maintaining the independence and integrity of Siam, and had secured a promise from the French Government that these should be respected. He stated also that the Government had taken steps to protect British interests in Siam in the event of a further development of hostilities, and that if these did not prove sufficient there were more war ships available for this purpose.

The Paris papers are furious over England's interference.

In the match All-England versus Australia, the former scored 334 in their first innings. The Australians are all out for 269.

General uneasiness prevails on the continent, and reports are being persistently circulated concerning Russian preparations for war.

The Mercantile, Finance, and Trustees Agency Company has suspended payment.

July 20th.

The great fire in London has resulted in the total destruction of fifty warehouses. The loss is variously estimated. It is the most disastrous conflagration that has occurred for many years.

News is to hand of a sea-comic encounter in Behring Straits between the British sailing steamer Hawatan and an American cruiser. The former was caught poaching on the American sealing ground, and the man-of-war fired a shot across her bows as an intimation to leave.

The steamer retaliated by firing point blank at the cruiser, the shot disabling the latter's machinery. The steamer made her escape.

In the match All-England v. Australia, the former have scored 324 in their second innings for a loss of eight wickets.

A great panic is feared on the London and New York Stock Exchanges owing to the threatened repeal of the Sherman Silver Purchase Act in the United States. Intense excitement prevails in financial circles.

Heavy failures have occurred in America owing to the pressure being brought to bear by the Banks, leading to forced sales of stock. Similar causes are expected to produce like results in England.
